"THE SECRET SERVICE,"

THE DUNGEON AND THE ESCAPE!

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

[ISSUED IN ENGLISH AND GERMAN.]

THIS work embraces the entire narrative of Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years traveling through the South in the Secret Service of the Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, East and West; his thrilling capture and confinement, for twenty months, in seven different rebel prisons; his escape and almost miraculous journey of near 400 miles aided by negroes and Union mountaineers. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work which has yet appeared. One of the most interesting and exciting books ever published. Now ready in both English and German. Sold only by subscription. Address

TRIBUNE ALMANAC, received by

jan17 CHAS. HIGHT.

New York Life Insurance Co.,

112 AND 114 BROADWAY.

THIS is one of the oldest institutions of the kind in America, having been chartered in 1841, and commenced business in May, 1845.

EVERY ONE SHOULD ENSURE.

While we live we may protect those dependent upon us; but when death severs the tie of all others must cease; it is a consolation to know that our prudence has made provision for the wants to which we can no longer minister; and the man who has the power, but neglects the opportunity, of providing in this way for the comfort and independence of his family, fails in the duty which he owes to them and himself. Therefore, let every one who has not obtained a policy of Insurance upon his life, no longer neglect this imperative duty. GREAT CARE SHOULD BE MANIFESTED IN THE SELECTION OF A COMPANY. The

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Offers the following highly important essentials:

It is a strictly Mutual Company:
It has had Twenty Years' Business Experience;
It has large Accumulated Assets:
It gives Liberal Assistance in the Payment of Premiums;
Its Dividends are declared Annually;
It is prompt in the Payment of all Losses;

IN FACT.

Special care in the selection of its risks, strict economy, and a safe and judicious investment of its funds, emphatically characterize the management of this company.

Assets over

$4,500,000.

Annual Dividend January 1, 1865.

50 Per Cent.

Total Amount Returned Premiums (Dividends) paid

$1,700,000.

Total Amount Claims by Death paid

$3,500,000.

During its existence it has issued

Over 36,000 Policies.

TEN-YEAR NON-FORFEITING POLICIES.

The New York Life Insurance Company originated, and was the first to bring before the public, the Ten-Year Non-Forfeiting Plan, which has so fully commended itself to the judgment of thinking men that it has become the most popular mode of insurance, and is rapidly superceding the old method of lifelong payment. It has received THE UNQUALIFIED APPROVAL OF THE BEST BUSINESS MEN OF THE LAND, large numbers of whom have taken out policies under it as an investment.

TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITING PLAN.

A party ensuring by this table, after the second year, can forfeit any part of what has been paid in, and by policy becomes a source of income to him while living.

ANOTHER NEW FEATURE.

TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITING ENDOWMENT POLICIES.

The New York Life Insurance Company have recently issued a NEW TABLE BY WHICH THE PREMIUMS CAN ALL BE PAID IN TEN YEARS AND THE NON-FORFEITURE BENEFIT ALSO SECURED. These policies are coming into general request. As a sure and profitable investment for one's declining years, they deserve the attention of all. A party ensuring by this table the amount is received by the assured himself, upon his attaining a specified age, while full provision is made for death occurring prior thereto.

Policies Issued on all the Usual Forms.

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital, - - - $500,000.

Insures Against.

ACCIDENTS,

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,

CAUSING LOSS OF LIFE OR BODILY INJURY.

THE TRAVELERS INSURANCE COMPANY was organized, under a charter granted by the Connecticut Legislature of 1863, and amended by the Legislature of 1864, for the specific purpose of effecting INSURANCE AGAINST ACCIDENTS, of whatever description, whether they occur in travelling by railroad, steamboat or stage coach, walking in the street, at work in the shop, or sitting by the domestic fireside, whether riding, hunting, fishing, shooting, swimming, cricketing, rowing, engineering, whether working, or playing, sleeping or waking, in danger or out of (apparent) danger, at home or abroad—in every variety of circumstances in which mankind are ordinarily placed.

A General Accident Policy not only includes the risk in travelling, but also all forms of dislocations, broken bones, ruptured tendons, sprains, concussions, crushings, bruises, cuts, stabs, gunshot wounds, poisoned wounds, burns and scalds, bites of dogs, unprovoked assaults by burglars, robbers or murderers—the action of lightning or sunstroke, the effects of explosions, chemicals, floods and earthquakes, suffocation by drowning or choking.

This company has now been for more than a year in successful operation; has issued over fifteen thousand policies, and paid numerous claims for compensation, has a directory of high character, and is managed with the prudence and sagacity which distinguish Hartford insurance companies; has an ample capital and large surplus, and its soundness and stability may be relied upon.

Hanging Gang Saws!

THESE GANG SAW GAUGES are superior to any other now in use. They save two thirds of the time over any of the old kinds, in changing, being made in sections varying from one fourth of an inch, to three inches, and can be varied to any desired dimensions with perfect accuracy.

THEY ARE CHEAPER AND MORE DURABLE

Than any other, giving a better bearing upon the saws, holds them firmer, and in two months will pay their cost in time saved by changing, to say nothing of their convenience in being varied to any dimensions required.

State, County, and Town Rights for Sale.

For further particulars apply to the Inventor at Brewer Village, Maine, or Messrs PALMER & JOHNSON and THOMAS N. EGERY, Exchange Street, Bangor. J. TRACY.

To Whom it May Concern.

THIS MAY CERTIFY that we have been using the past season, Tracy's Patent IMPROVED GAUGES, for hanging gang-saws, and do not hesitate to say that the time saved in changing gauges during one season, will more than compensate for the expense. The gauges are so arranged in sections that they may be changed to any desired thickness in a very few minutes, and with perfect correctness. They are very durable, not likely to get out of order, and hold the saws much firmer than the old kind of gauge. We recommend them to owners of gang mills as being a time and money-saving invention. Despatches to the Evening Times.

The French Troops to be Withdrawn from Mexico—The Fenian Excitement in Canada—The Affair at Bagdad.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.

The World's special Washington despatch says—

Information has been received that on Dec. 9th Juarez fled from Chihuahua, with 25 men, previously levying $10,000 on the town. The Imperialists entered the place without resistance.

There seems no doubt that by the last steamer from Europe, the State Department received positive information from Paris that the French troops will be withdrawn within a stated and early period from Mexico.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.

Two men named David Skiff and George Boyce, have been arrested and identified as the robbers of the Messenger of the Farmers and Citizens National Bank, of Williamsburg, Long Island, on Friday. No clue to the money box has been discovered.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.

The Herald's Toronto correspondent says that the reason for the postponement of the meeting of Parliament until May next, is the fear of a Fenian engagement during the winter. The Provincial Fenians, though in favor of O'Mahoney, are not opposed to an invasion by Sweeney during the present winter.

One night last week, information was sent over by discharged soldiers at Ogdensburg, that the Fenians were coming.

The garrison at Fort Wellington turned out to receive them, when the ex-volunteers fired several shots, and the garrison, it is stated, behaved very badly. The volunteers then turned, satisfied with their sport.

The Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondent says—

The removal of Lt. Col. Boylor from the Ordinance Department at Fortress Monroe, by the Secretary of War, is attributed to the fact of his employment of so many ex-rebel soldiers. It is believed that this explanation will be satisfactory.

It is stated that great injustice has been done to several individuals by the peremtory order removing all Southerners from Fortress Monroe, as they had been Union soldiers.

Strong efforts are being made at the Fortress for the erection of a monument to 6000 Federal soldiers, buried in that vicinity.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.

The Tribune's special Washington despatch says—

It is stated on good authority that orders have been sent by the War Department to our military commanders on the Rio Grande to stop all interference with affairs on the Mexican side, and to stop all filibustering expeditions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.

The report of Col. Whittlesey, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in North Carolina, speaks with great praise of the good conduct of the freedmen. It says the idle and conscience-begotten fears of insurrection have passed away. All admit that a more quiet and orderly Christmas has never been enjoyed in this region.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.

Brownsville accounts of the 16th give an impartial and correct statement of the capture of Bagdad, as follows:

A party of 123, mostly colored soldiers, belonging to the 118th U. S. Colored Infantry, under command of Col Reed, crossed the Rio Grande at Clarksville and divided into three squads. At 4 o'clock on the 5th the first squad entered Bagdad, which they surprised, capturing about 400 prisoners and 4 pieces of artillery.

The second party proceeded to the ferry, where a guard of ten was stationed. The officer commanding this guard stood at his post, bravely firing his revolver at the attacking party, whereupon he was shot down and the others surrendered. In this affair one Imperialist was killed and another wounded.

The third party proceeded to the quarter of Colonel Rice, post commander, and took him and those with him prisoners. The Colonel subsequently escaped, but was retaken.

A squad of ten men was then detailed to take the Imperial gunboat Antonio. They fired on her, killing a Sergeant and wounding several others. The Antonio fired a volley at the attacking party, killing two and wounding one of them. The attacking party then fired two shots from a howitzer at the Antonio, all of which passed through her just above the water line.

On the morning of the 6th a French frigate lying outside, shelled the place. Shots were freely exchanged between the Liberals' howitzers on the beach and a howitzer boat from the frigate.

No damage was done by their firing, beyond creating a panic among the citizens of Bagdad, who crossed to the American bank of the Rio Gr

A Word About Monuments.

Just at this time a large number of monuments are being erected throughout the country—very many of them designed to commemorate the defenders of the Republic in its recent gigantic struggle with treason. And just at this time we may very properly inquire what a monument should be, for we believe the prevalent notions are quite rude and erroneous.

What, then, should a monument be? We answer that, in the second place, a monument should be a thing of beauty. The design should be so artistically executed that no inscription will be required to tell what was the original intent. A bungling hand will spoil the finest conception, and should never be tolerated.

A monument, then, should be both expressive in its design and beautiful in its finish. Thus only can it perform its two-fold office of commemorating the past, of refining and elevating the present—two things which should always be done by a monument. For the worthy should always be held in sacred remembrance, both because they are worthy and because it ennobles the living thus to cherish the memory of the worthy dead; while in the next place we surely dwarf our natures and lessen our happiness when we deprive ourselves of the influence of genuine art consecrated to high purpose.

But we may be told that such monuments can not be had, that we have not men of genius to design and execute them, that we have not money to pay for them when executed. We answer that the capacity of our people for the production of works of genuine art has not been tested. We have made only the most trivial demand upon their resources. We answer, again, that the cost of monuments having both expression and beauty need not in most instances exceed the cost of our ordinary structures which have to be labeled before we can guess what they were designed to commemorate. It is not, indeed, so much owing to the lack of artistic genius among our people, which would soon display itself were it called to duty, nor so much owing to a lack of means, as to a lack of taste, that we have thus far made such a poor show in the monumental business.

There are, however, hopeful signs of improvement. In different parts of our country monuments are being erected by States, by cities and by private contributions, some of which are works of genuine art. They will truly commemorate the past, and as truly elevate, refine and ennoble all who look upon them. In our own State there has recently been erected over the ashes of one of the most gallant Generals of the war a marble statue, the work of our eminent young sculptor. There stands the form of the noble and heroic soldier, the marble itself almost breathing with his departed spirit. That is a monument which needs not to be labeled. Like a marble chimney, before we can discover its meaning. No one can look upon it without catching somewhat of the spirits of the worthy dead. And yet this statue of General Berry, at Rockland, is the only statue in all our wide State.

Now, shall not Maine, like her sisters, erect a monument, both expressive and beautiful, in honor of the thousands of her sons who have fought in defence of the Republic? Can she well do less than make a small appropriation for such a purpose?

And shall not Bangor have a statue of President Lincoln? No where is his memory more fervently cherished. We believe there is scarcely one of our citizens who would not rejoice at the erection of such a statue in our midst to be daily gazed upon by our people with increasing delight. For a few thousand dollars we presume we can secure a bronze statue of the martyr President, like the one which is about to be erected in Philadelphia by our Kelso sculptor, and which will doubtless be the historic figure of Abraham Lincoln in all coming time.

If half a dozen persons will take the matter hand we believe the needful funds can be raised so that the statue could be put up next Autumn. One thing is certain, we shall never know unless we try.

THE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE. The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post on Thursday writes:

"The Reconstruction Committee had a meeting this morning. It is not expected that it will report very soon, but there can be little doubt that the first report of the committee will conclude with a constitutional amendment covering two or three important points; and the chief one will be that relating to representation. There is evidently a majority in Congress opposed to representation based purely upon population; and, if possible, an amendment will be adopted, which will prevent white men anywhere from representing black men who are not voters."

ILLNESS OF JEFF. DAVIS. The Baltimore Gazette reports that Jeff. Davis has twice been very sick within the past six weeks, suffering from erysipelas, and at one time was at the point of death, so fear to it that he gave to his physician many farewell messages to his wife and family. As the Gazette is a secesh concern, this story is probably set afloat to create sympathy for the arch-rebel.

THE GERMANS in Missouri are inviting their friends in the Fatherland to come over and take up the unoccupied lands in that State, which yet belong to the Government. It is said there are over six millions of acres of these lands yet to be had at one dollar and a quarter an acre, and much of it is very good. Some of the Germans are already on their way, and it is expected that a large increase of the population of Missouri will result from this movement.

DESTRUCTIVE GALES ON THE ENGLISH COAST. The latest news by the foreign steamers report a succession of heavy gales off the English coast, which have been very destructive to life and property. The telegraph dispatches furnish a long list of maritime disasters, some of which are accompanied by a sad loss of life. The underwriters in New York will suffer heavily by these casualties to American shipping, most of the vessels wrecked being largely insured in that city.

HALE'S

HONEY OF Horehound and Tar,

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, DIFFICULT BREATHING, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT, BRONCHIAL TUBES AND LUNGS, LEADING TO CONSUMPTION.

This sovereign remedy is compounded from the favorite recipe of an "Illustrious Physician and Chemist, who for many years used it with the most complete success in his extensive private practice.

He had long been profoundly impressed with the wonderful virtues of the honey of the plant Horehound, in union with the CLIMBING and HEALING properties of tar extracted from the LIFE PRINCIPLE of the forest tree, the Pinus Balsamea or Balm of Gilead. For years he was baffled in his attempts to blend these great medicinal forces into such a union that the original power of each would be preserved, the disagreeable qualities of common tar removed, and the virtues of the compound be within the means of all. At last, after a long course of difficult chemical experiments, he found that by adding the essential oils of the ingredients, each one valuable by itself, he not only obtained the desired results but greatly increased the curative power of the compound. This having been thoroughly tested by practice, is now offered to the general public as a safe, pleasant and infallible remedy.

Miss RUTH BANCOCK, Preceptress.
Miss LIZZIE CROSBY, Teacher of Drawing, Painting, &c.
Miss CLARA C. HILL, Teacher of Music.
H. M. FOSS, Teacher of Penmanship.

This is one of the oldest Institutions of learning in the State—having been incorporated in 1803—and has constantly enjoyed a most deserved popularity, which it is the effort of the present Instructors to sustain.

The Academy is pleasantly situated between the villages of Upper and Lower Hampden, on an elevated and healthful situation, sufficiently retired from the business parts of the villages to make it a very desirable place for study. The school rooms are commodious, and have of late been refitted in the most approved manner.

The villages of Hampden offer to Students resorting here, the various advantages of good society, several meetings of public worship, good boarding places, and very easy access from almost every quarter.

Boarding places can be secured, and further particulars had, on addressing the Principal.

Instruction will be eminently practical in such studies as Book-Keeping, Surveying, &c. The principles of the Natural Sciences will be suitably illustrated. Navigation, and the higher branches of Mathematics will be thoroughly taught; and those preparing to teach will receive especial attention.

Especial care will also be bestowed upon those pursuing the Ancient Languages preparatory to entering College, or otherwise.

Those studying the Modern Languages will have the benefit of a most thorough and accomplished Teacher in that department.

As the Academy is provided with a well-furnished Laboratory, those pursuing the subject of Chemistry will have receive a most important advantage.

A well selected Library of about six hundred volumes, open to the use of Students, and furnishes valuable means for reading and reference.

Thirty-Ninth Congress.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.

Senate.

The Committee on Reconstruction reported an amendment to the Constitution the same as in House report.

A resolution was passed referring all papers and documents on the subject of the representation of the late rebellious States to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Sumner preached the sermon of the Boston Board of Trade, taking the case of a late example, Northern products from the operation of Southern tariff limitations. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The bill providing that no persons not qualified from taking the oath of loyalty shall be allowed to vote, by reason of having formed an opinion upon the matter to be submitted to such jury, founded upon public rumors, newspaper statements, etc., was made the special order for Thursday.

The bill for the enlargement of the Freedmen's Bureau was taken up. The pending question was upon Mr. Cowan's amendment to limit the jurisdiction of the Bureau to the States lately in rebellion.

After debate, Mr. Cowan's amendment was rejected 11 to 33.

Mr. Davis moved to strike out the provision extending the military jurisdiction and protection to the agents and employees of the Bureau. Rejected.

An amendment was adopted restricting the military jurisdiction to the exercise of officers pertaining to the Bureau.

Several other amendments were offered and rejected.

The Senate then went into executive session.

Adjourned.

House.

The following bills were introduced and appropriately referred:

Providing for the defence of the Northwestern frontier.

To prevent counterfeiting of United States money.

To regulate the appointment of Admirals and certain volunteers in the regular navy.

Giving bounties to those who entered the service in 1861 and 1862.

Prescribing the oath of office to all appointees of the Government.

For the construction of a ship canal around Niagara Falls.

An amendment to the Constitution was offered providing that in the event of the death of both the President and Vice President the Chief Justice or elder Associate Justice shall act as President until a new election. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

A preamble and resolution was adopted that, as several high officials have appointed to office several rebels, the Judiciary Committee inquire whether legislation is necessary to enforce obedience to the law, by all men, without regard to color.

A series of resolutions was offered by Mr. Grider and referred to the reconstruction committee:

That State Governments cannot be destroyed; that representation should be admitted by taking the oath; that it is illegal to hold the States in the Union to vote for a constitutional amendment and then not allow them representation; that taxing people while denying representation is contrary to the principles of our government.

Mr. Finck introduced a bill prescribing the oath of office and repealing the test oath of 1862. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Messrs. Jencks and Myers introduced a bill regulating suffrage in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Bradford introduced a bill providing for the admission of the State of Colorado to the Union.

Several resolutions were introduced instructing the committee on ways and means to inquire into the expediency of taxing tobacco in the leaf and reducing the tax on manufactured tobacco.

A resolution was adopted instructing the committee on the Judiciary to inquire whether further legislation is necessary to compel compliance with the law, requiring all officers to take the oath.

A resolution was committed to the Committee on the Judiciary, declaring that the leaders of the rebellion ought to be tried by court martial or a military commission, and that it would be inexpedient to try them by a civil court, when jurors in the South would be the equals of those accused of crime.

Mr. Stevens, from the Committee on Reconstruction reported an amendment to the Constitution, providing that representation shall be based on the whole number of persons in the States, and that wherever the elective franchise shall be denied or abridged in any State on account of race or color, all such persons shall be excluded from the basis of representation.

Mr. Rogers of the Reconstruction Committee opposed the amendment, arguing that it is contrary to the principles on which our government is founded, viz: That representation and taxation must go together; it was designed to degrade the white man.

Mr. Conklin made a speech in favor of the amendment.

On motion of Mr. Stevens the further consideration of the subject was postponed until to-morrow.

Bangor, Monday, Jan. 22.

DIVORCES DECREED.

Harriet Marcho vs. Joseph Marcho. Mitchell.

Louisa B. Harmon, Lib't, vs. Samuel F. Harmon. McCrillis.

Ephraim K. Dean vs. Hannah R. Dean. Godfrey.

David Worcester vs. John M. Lord. The arguments by McCrillis for deft. and Paine for plff. were closed to-day.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY. The house of David Fuller, Esq., Centre street, was broken open on Saturday night, but fortunately the rogue made sufficient noise to awaken Mrs. Fuller, and he was obliged to decamp without booty. He effected an entrance by breaking a pane of glass in a back window.

LEVEE AT CITY HALL. The Ladies of the Pine Street Methodist Church will give a Levee at City Hall this evening, which will embrace all the attractions incident to such occasions. Refreshments will be served to the hungry.

POSTPONED. Scott's Exhibition, which was to have taken place at Norumbega Hall, is postponed until some future time. Due notice will be given of the time hereafter.

CLAIM AGENCY. Soldiers, soldiers' widows, and all others interested are expected to read the advertisement of Messrs. Perkins & Stevens in another column. It has sometimes been easier to get claims from government, than from claim agents, and great care should be taken to employ persons who will not swindle with false certificates, or hold back claims for the purpose of purchasing at a discount. We feel confident that Messrs. Perkins & Stevens deal fairly with their clients, and secure prompt returns.

—It is singular that the party which is so thoroughly shocked at the possibility of granting the right of franchise to the negro has always controlled the entire vote of the meanest foreigners in the large cities, and have finally arrived at the point where they don't control hardly any but the foreign vote.

—Revivals of religion are springing up in various parts of the West. There is soon to be a Methodist revival in several large cities.

From Mr. Prentiss M. Whitman, formerly of Bangor, now of Beaufort, S. C.—An elegant silver medal, given by the South Carolina Institute, in 1855, to Robert Chisholm, for raising olives on Beaufort island, beautifully engraved with appropriate devices; also a file of original law papers in a case tried in South Carolina in 1829; also a file of original papers in a case tried in 1785, and a portion of a volume of sundry reports published at London in 1680.

From Hon. Isaiah Stetson, of Bangor—A lot of Legislative Documents from Augusta, Maine.

From Mr. John Emerson of Howland—A very valuable collection of Indian stone implements found by him on the banks of the Penobscot river, and principally near the mouths of the Piscataquis and Passadumkeag, as follows: eight stone arrow heads and eight stone knives in fine preservation, and arranged upon a tablet; sixteen stone implements of various designs, also arranged upon a tablet; one stone ax; one implement 14 inches long, chisel at one end and gouge at the other; two large ice chisels; one very small gouge, two common size; two pendent shaped stones; nine stone knives or spear heads; one stone implement for grinding corn; three large stone knives or axes; five gouges; six chisels; one stone knife of singular formation; also a lot of Indian stone implements, uses unknown.

From Dr. A. G. Hamlin of Bangor—An extemporized corn mill, used by the rebel soldiers in Tennessee, and found on the battle ground of Hood's defeat near Nashville.

From Mr. William Strange of Bangor—A very singular shaped calculus of four or three inches in length, taken from the kidney of a slaughtered beef cow.

Paid for land, labor, poles, hop house, taxes, fences, etc., $1,484. Sold the land for $1200, and received for hops and other crops for the three years, $4,338. SHIPWRECK AND LOSS OF LIFE. We learn from F. Louis Talbot, Esq., of East Machias, that the brig Nova, of Machias, Talbot master, bound from New York to Jacksonville, Florida, was wrecked on the south breaker of St. John's bar, on the 8th inst. Miss Wall and a child, passengers, the captain, 1st mate, pilot and two seamen, were lost. The brig was owned by P & J Talbot & Co., of East Machias, and Simpson & Clapp of New York; was about a year and a half old, 220 tons.

Captain E Jerome Talbot was a son of the Hon. S H Talbot, of East Machias, 26 years of age, and an enterprising ship master. He leaves a wife and child. The mate was Mr. John Stewart, of Machiasport.—[Machias Republican.

—The last definition of "Liberty of the Press," is for newspapers to aid the cause of treason for four years, oppose their government in all its acts to maintain its own life and honor, and then claim a full share of public patronage! Invasion of this "liberty of the press" is to withhold the patronage and confer it on those papers which have loyally supported the government against its enemies. Vide Boston Post and other Democratic papers. By the way, who ever knew a Democratic administration to give a dollar's worth of patronage to an opposition journal?—[Press.

—Some people complain at the high price of newspapers to what was the case two years ago. But the rise is not for the benefit of the printers; their profits are less now than formerly; the paper manufacturers are the ones who get the increase of price, because of the high rates at which they put white paper; and that too when all kinds of articles that enter into the manufacture of paper are more plentiful than when paper was lower in price.

On The Battle Flags Which Hang Suspended in the State House.

BY MRS. OLIVE

Nothing but flags—not simple strips
Tattered and torn, that hang in rags;
And we will think when we see the dead
With hasty graves beneath them in days gone by
With a burning cheek and a kindling eye,
And have bathed their folds with their young life's tide,
And, dying, blessed them, and, blessing, died.

Nothing but rags—not mothers, at night,
They tell each other of tales of fright,
And dim specters come, and their thin arms twine
Round each standard tear as they stand in line,
As the Northern blasts—they loosen,
And the battle flags with the battle's storm,
And once again through the smoke and strife,
Those Colors lead to a Nation's life.

Nothing but flags—yet they're bathed with tears,
They tell of triumph—of hopes—of fears;
Of a mother's prayers,—of a sister's joy,—
Of a serpent crushed—of the coming day,—
Silent they speak, and the tear will start,
As we stand beneath them with throbbing heart,
And think of those who are ne'er forgot,
Their flags come home,—why come they not?

Nothing but flags—yet we hold our breath,
And gaze with awe at those types of death;
Nothing but flags—yet the thought will come,
The heart must pray though the lips be dumb.
They are sacred, pure, and we see no stain
On those dear loved flags come home again;
Baptized in blood,—our purest, best,
Tattered and torn, they're now at rest.

THE RENT PAPER.

'John, what has become of last weeks paper?' inquired Mrs. C——, of her husband.

'Surely, wife, I cannot tell; it was brought from the office, I think.

'Yes, James brought it home on Saturday evening; but neighbor N—— and his wife being here, he laid it on the parlor table.'

'Oh, N—— has got the paper. I remember now of lending it to him.'

'I am very sorry for that, I think you do very wrong, husband, in lending the paper before we have read them. He who takes a paper and pays for it, is certainly entitled to the first perusal of it.'

'I know it, wife, but neighbor N—— don't take a paper, and I can't refuse when he asks to borrow ours.'

'Don't N—— take a paper?' inquired Mrs. C—— with surprise.

'No.'

'Why not? he is, as he says, always very fond of reading.'

'Yes, but he seems to think himself unable to take one.'

'Unable! he is certainly as able as we are. He pays a much larger tax, and is always bragging of his superior cattle, and——'

'Hush, wife! It is wrong to speak of our neighbors' faults behind their backs.' He promised to return the paper to-day.'

'I hope he will. It contains an excellent article which I desire very much to read.'

Mrs. C—— was an excellent lady; and probably possessed as liberal feelings as her peace-loving husband; but she could not believe it to be their duty to furnish a free paper to their more wealthy and covetous neighbor.

N—— had formerly taken a paper; but thinking it too expensive, to the no small discomfiture of his wife and little ones, he had ordered its discontinuance. He, however, dearly loved to read, and had, for a year or more, been in the habit of sending 'little Joe' on the disagreeable errand of borrowing old papers from his neighbors.

Mrs. C—— waited patiently through the day, expecting to see 'little Joe' coming with the paper, but the day passed, as likewise did the evening, and no paper came.

The next morning, after breakfast, she was heard to say:

'Well, John, the paper has not been returned yet.'

'Ah, indeed; I guess neighbor N—— has either forgotten his promise on is absent from home,' replied C——.

'I think,' she continued, 'we had better send James after it.'

'Would it not be best, wife, to wait until afternoon? N—— may return it before that time.'

'As you think best,' was the reply.

They waited until nearly dark, but no paper made its appearance. James, a smart lad of ten years was now instructed to proceed to neighbor N——'s and get the paper. He soon arrived and made known his errand. He was very politely informed that it was lent to R——, the blacksmith, who lived a mile further on. James, unwilling to return home without it, notwithstanding the lateness of the hour, continued on to the blacksmith's.

It was quite dark when he arrived, but soon made his business known, and was informed by Mrs. R—— that 'little sis got hold of the paper and tore it up.'

'I'll take the fragments,' said James, who was for having nothing lost.

'The fragments, Jim!' exclaimed Mrs. R——, 'Old Donk, the peddler came along here to-day, and I sold 'em with the rags.'

James, somewhat dispirited by his unsuccessful mission, and not being very courageous in the dark, silently beat a hasty retreat for home, where in due season he arrived, and reported the result of his errand.

'Ah, very composedly remarked Mr. C—— I suppose R—— asked neighbor N—— to lend him the paper, and he did not like to deny him. We cannot, I think, accuse either of doing intentional wrong; and one paper, continued he, is of little value.'

'You may argue N——'s case as you please,' replied Mrs. C——, 'but be assured of one thing.'

'What is that' asked Mr. C. with evident fear.

'Nothing, only neighbor N. will not long be at the inconvenience of troubling people for old papers.

It about three weeks after this conversation, N. was informed by the postmaster that he had a paper in the office. He was highly pleased at this announcement, but could not think who was so very kind as to send him a paper. After many conjectures, he came to the conclusion that it was from some friend whom he had assisted in former years.

One year had passed, the paper continued to come, and N. was still ignorant from whence it came, but one day at a hailing he informed his neighbors of his good fortune, and expressed some fears that he would have to do without a paper soon.

'Not you shan't,' said James C. in a loud tone of voice, 'for mother sent on two dollars for you last week.'

'Well done, Jim!' shouted a dozen voices, while a simultaneous roar of laughter rang along the line of teamsters.

N., who had previous to this announcement been remarkably cheerful and talkative, became suddenly silent, while a deep red color, the emblem of shame, mantled his brow. This was a good lesson for N.

Early next morning he went and paid Mrs. C. the $4, acknowledged his error, and was never known afterwards to take less than two weekly papers.

Seeds of the Freedmen.

Whoe among our million of readers desires to contribute money for the education or goods and clothing for the relief of the Freedmen, should do so forthwith, nor stand upon the manner of their giving it. Do not wait to be asked by an agent. Send along your gifts by mail or rail at once. You need not fear that you will send too much or too little for, at whatever you send, be it more or less will be appropriated or misapplied. Women's and children's clothing, dresses, cotton goods, but warm and untorn clothing—and, above all, strong shoes and woollen stockings are greatly needed everywhere throughout the South. Thousands of lives may be saved by a prompt and large supply of these articles of clothing.

As there exists some confusion in the public mind in regard to the Freedmen Societies we will briefly explain their relations to each other. The American Freedmen's Aid Commission is a confederation for certain special purposes of the different State Societies. It is designed to become a Federal Union; but the organization is not yet in effective working order. Practically, therefore, the State Societies are the proper almoners and educational agencies. Prominent among these bodies is the National Freedmen's Relief Association, of which Francis George Shaw is President, and of which Dr. Tyng, William Cullen Bryant, John Jay, George C. Ward, Edgar Ketchum, Edward F. Davison, O. B. Frothingham, and other well-known citizens of New York, are executive officers. It supports at this time, besides orphan asylums, over 200 teachers in the South. It has made physical relief, or material aid, more of a specialty than the other organizations. It is also entirely unsectarian, and free from political affiliations. Men of all churches and all parties are donors to it and officers of it. It draws its contributions especially from New York, New Jersey, the West, and the New England States (excepting Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Of course this is impossible, without great expense, to cover this territory with agents and, therefore, the friends of the Freedmen should save them the trouble and cost by freely forwarding their donations to the head quarters of the Society. The generous public are especially warned to give nothing in answer to individual appeals, however urgent they may be, or seem to be, or to any men or women whose commissions are dated earlier than March. All others are impostors. These statements are made on the authority of officers of the Association.

This Winter will be the last season, in all probability, in which appeals will be made for physical relief, excepting for the maintenance of hospitals and asylums for the aged and orphans. Next Summer will enable the Freedmen to earn enough to clothe themselves. But there are hundreds of thousands who pine in open cabins, who are clad in coarse rags, most of them young girls and women, to whom such suffering brings speedy death by consumption. For these unfortunates we appeal. Surely, no more Christian charity can engage the hearts of our people.

A few words about education. There are at least a million of Freedmen who ought to be taught to read—who are eagerly appealing to be instructed—and whom the societies can reach if they have funds to support the teachers. One million of pupils require twenty thousand teachers. There are not more than a thousand teachers of Freedmen in the South to-day. The National Freedmen's Relief Association have applications on file for a hundred teachers to reinforce their existing posts, and they have more than that number of offers to go from ladies of character and culture all over the North. They have two hundred teachers—they need five thousand; there are a thousand teachers where twenty thousand are needed. This is the situation. Want of money alone is an endurance to the accomplishment of the object of the Societies. That purpose is to educate every colored child and every young adult in the Southern States. Shall they not do it? Shall we leave the negroes Freedmen? or shall we transform them into freemen? Reply in green-backs, and at once.—[New York Tribune.

Contributions of money or clothing for the above desirable object may be sent to Geo. A. Thatcher, Esq. of this city, and they will safely reach their destination at a very small expense. We trust a liberal response will be made.

Dr. Bellows, President of the Sanitary Commission, recently made some statements which are worthy of generous attention. Speaking from the official figures before him, he said nine-tenth of the men who fought in the Union army were pure American [illegible] of every 1000 were our own blood kinsmen, cousins; and that of every 100 claiming to be wounded soldiers and soldiers' widows and orphans, 90 per cent. came from those of foreign birth. The first part of this statement is a conclusive answer to our English newspaper critics who affirmed that the Union armies were largely made up of foreign mercenaries. A more homogeneous force, on the whole, never took the field in such numbers. It was an American army fighting understandingly for American institutions. The latter part of Dr. Bellows statement speaks for itself. It does not discredit the foreign element in our ranks, which bore serviceable and honorable share in the struggle for the nation. But in the first place, it is not expected that the bulk of this class should encounter wounds and losses for the sake of the Union to disinterestedly as our own kindred; and, secondly, as a class, are much more needy in their circumstances.

John Bright, in a recent speech at Birmingham, thus spoke of the poorer classes of Great Britain:

'There are amongst them one million—probably more than a million, I believe—in the United Kingdom—of those who are classed in the unfortunate list of paupers. There are at least a million who are just above paupers—always in peril lest they themselves should become paupers. Their condition and their prospects are no more favorable than that. Then look at the ignorance in the lower strata of this portion of the people. Look at their poverty, their suffering, their utter hopelessness of good. Why, in the American Southern States, during the days of slavery, every negro had an idea that there was a day of jubilee for him. Verily, they used to say 'the Lord will come down and deliver us.' But in this class, the lowest stratum of the population of your country, I dare to say there is neither belief in anything better for them, nor scarcely in any aspiration after it.

Helmbold's Higaly Concentrated

COMPOUND

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

For purifying the blood, removing all diseases arising from excesses and imprudences in life, cutaneous constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulceration of the Throat & Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly eruptions of the skin.

And Beautifying the Complexion.

NOT A FEW

Of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulate in the blood. Of all diseases that have been made to purify it none can equal

HELMBOLD'S

COMPOUND

Extract Sarsaparilla.

It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit certificates to show its effect, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two table spoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the Decoction as usually made.

THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the State Hospitals and Public Sanitary Institutions, throughout the land, as well as in private practice, and are considered as invaluable remedies.
